Facilitated by seasoned executive coaches (MCC & PCC levels), who are faculty in our ICF-approved, Canada-wide coaching system

Learn the theory, watch the live demos, and practice coaching in a supportive, fun environment with an intriguing mix of people from the corporate, public, and non profit sectors

Deepen your communication and leadership skills, make a bigger difference in the world

This SEEDS coaching program is internationally acknowledged for benefitting local communities

"Greatest value I gained was the practice, practice, practice – built my confidence. I couldn't believe I'd coach fully on day 3, but I did and felt good about it."

"A simple framework to practice a very powerful leadership skill and way of communicating which will make a tremendous positive impact on each individual, the leadership team as a whole, and cascade down to each staff member and customer."

"What I learned in the workshop was how to intuitively ask questions and allow the client to form their own answers without my rushing in to 'fix' the problem. The facilitators were professional, knowledgeable, and empathetic to my situation. As an added bonus, I was able to connect with other highly professional like-minded attendees that added enormously to the enrichment of the experience."

"I really liked the diversity in the room of ages and class and how comfortable everyone was. The atmosphere was set properly. I got to coach someone I would not on a normal basis coach. I learned the power of listening and the inner strength we have to solve our problems. The skills I learned taught me to see things from a different perspective. Basically, I know how my boss feels."
